GIRL WOMEN.

The general standard of measurement for womanhood is "grown-up-ness." When a girl is emancipated from school and arrives at the dignity of trailing skirts and elaborate hair dressing she is looked upon as a young woman. But nature knows nothing of such standards. When the womanly function is established in womanhood is attained according to her standards, and there is need of womanly care and caution. It is girlish ignorance or neglect at this critical time which often results in long years of after misery.

Mothers who perceive the evidences of functional derangement in young girls should promptly have them begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, tranquilizes the nerves and tones up the whole system.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY.

Much interest is being manifested in the local advisory board of the Children's Home Society of Virginia, organized in the rooms of the Business Men's League last Monday night. The objects of the society have been outlined in the Gazette, and they appeal to all as commendable, invoking the encouragement and aid of all Virginians. The duties of the advisory board are as follows:

1. To organize, upon appointment, by the election of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

2. To report to headquarters the case of a homeless child.

3. To accept a child in case of emergency, subject to the approval of the State superintendent.

4. To receive and report applications for children.

5. To give information, supply blanks and other requisites.

6. To report as to the character, social standing and financial ability of a family applying for a child, obtaining satisfactory testimonials from reliable sources.

7. To discreetly supervise the work of the society within the local jurisdiction, and give such assistance as may be in their power to the superintendent, and especially report at once any case of abuse or neglect of a child.

8. To receive donations on for the society and remit the same without delay to the proper authorities, giving receipt, and giving a correct list of donors.

9. To aid in the circulation of the literature of the society.

10. To keep correct minutes of their proceedings, a record of all children received within their jurisdiction, also a record of the transfer of such children.

11. To promptly notify the State Superintendent of the removal of any family having a child of the society, giving, if possible, their new address.

12. To report in writing any matter of importance not specified in these rules.

These boards have charge of the interests of the society in their respective communities. Their duties involve such a supervision as will prevent the possibility of a child under the care of the society being abused or neglected.

The aim is to utilize the energy and activity of men and women in an aggressive movement on behalf of the homeless child.

Note.—Solicitation must be natural and not officious. Correspondence is confidential to avoid local prejudice.

Experience of seventeen years has brought out the fact that there are more good homes in need of children than children in need of homes. The mission is to supply these two needs.

Rev. Wm. J. Maybee, the State Superintendent of Virginia, is open to suggestions from pastors to present this cause in their churches.

THE WATER-CURE ATROCITIES.

According to that eminent military eloquentist, Funston, the American army is composed largely of "insane liars." Funston applies that gentle epithet to every man who says the "water-cure" has been applied to natives in the Philippines by soldiers in the service of the United States. Many letters from officers, surgeons and enlisted men describing the administration of the water torture have been published, and two soldiers have testified before the Senate committee that they saw the torture applied under the immediate supervision of regular army officers. The Funstons have tried to place the blame for these atrocities upon native scouts, but the sworn testimony shows that the torture was applied in many cases by a squad of the Eighteenth Regular Infantry, known as the "water cure detail." Funston may yet have cause to regret his fluency in denunciation of "traitors," "infamous liars" and "yellow dog journals." He has boasted of having had the pleasure of hawking many Filipinos, and the Senate committee may desire to know more of his diversions in Luzon. —[Philadelphia North American.]

MORAL WAVE IN RICHMOND.—A

wave of moral reform is sweeping over Richmond. War has been declared on the gambling houses of the city and also against disorderly saloons. There is such consternation among the patrons of the green cloth as has not prevailed in that city in scores of years. A dozen men were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning on charges of conducting gambling houses; warrants are out for others, and the proprietors whose places have not received the attention of the police are closing up. It is doubtful whether there was a game of poker in progress in Richmond last night outside of the social clubs. For the first time in years the courts and the police seem to be in full and thorough accord and determined to break up gambling, Sunday liquor selling, and disorder in saloons. The recent murders and other crimes, which were connected with gambling, have, it is believed, caused the vigorous crusade just inaugurated.

ATTEMPT TO LYNCH A NEGRO.—Mrs. J. B. Kennedy, aged fifty-three years, residing on the James farm, near Money Point, in Norfolk county, was criminally assaulted yesterday afternoon by Mark Banks, a young negro. Mrs. Kennedy was passing through a clump of woods, when she was attacked by the negro, who kept her in the woods until after dark last night. With one hand clutched around the prostrate woman's throat, Banks searched her clothes with the other for valuables, but only found $2.50 in cash. A passerby heard moans in the woods. An alarm was immediately given and before the negro could escape the woods were surrounded and Banks was captured. When taken to the county jail, the negro was found to have no effect on the crowd that soon gathered, and a lynching was only averted by the removal of the negro to the county jail in Portsmouth, where he will be held for safekeeping.

DRY GOODS.

A Valuable Medicine

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and it seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by Richard Gibson druggist.
